

The image shows a technical drawing of a bag front. It features a main body with a curved top edge, outlined in red. Inside this body is a smaller trapezoidal pocket outlined in green. Within the green pocket is a rectangular section outlined in red, representing the upper pocket. At the bottom of the main body is another rectangular section outlined in red, representing the lower pocket. Small red dots are placed at the corners of the inner rectangles to indicate stitching or assembly points.
