

A technical drawing of a garment front, likely a vest or a sleeveless top. The drawing features two distinct outlines: an outer red line and an inner green line. Both outlines follow a similar path, starting from a wide base, tapering slightly towards the shoulders, and then curving inward to form a V-neckline. The word "FRENTE" is printed in a bold, purple, sans-serif font, centered horizontally and positioned in the upper-middle section of the garment's body.
