

A technical drawing of a garment front, likely a vest or a short-sleeved shirt. The drawing features two concentric outlines: an outer red line and an inner green line. Both outlines follow a similar path, starting from a high neckline, curving down to form a V-shape at the waist, and then extending down to the hem. The word "FRENTE" is printed in a bold, purple, sans-serif font in the center of the garment area.

The logo features the text "MANGA DIREITA" in a bold, purple, sans-serif font, centered within a white, stylized shape. This shape is defined by a green outline and is set against a larger, light gray background that is also outlined in green. The entire composition is framed by a red outline that has a wavy, organic top edge and a straight bottom edge.
